DETAILED ACTION

This application is a national stage entry of PCT/EP00/03407 International Filing Date: 04/14/2000, which claims priority to GB 9911582.6.

Election/Restrictions

This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

Antineoplastic agents, for example, including antineoplastic topoisomerase II inhibitors, antimicrotubule agents, alkylating agents, antimetabolites.

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single disclosed species of a single specific composition comprising a specified individual active compounds to be employed in the compositions and method, to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner:

Claim 30.

The species of for example, including antineoplastic topoisomerase II inhibitors, antimicrotubule agents, alkylating agents, and antimetabolites do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

The situation involving the "Markush Practice" wherein a single claim defines alternatives is governed by Rule 13.2. In this situation, the requirement of a technical interrelationship and the same or corresponding special technical features as defined in Rule 13.2, shall be considered to be met when the alternatives are of a similar nature. When the Markush grouping is for alternatives of chemical compounds, they shall be regarded as being of a similar nature where the following criteria are fulfilled:

(A) all alternatives have a common property or activity, and

(B)(1) a common structure is present, i.e., a significant structural element is shared by all of the alternatives.

In the instant case, employing active agents for example numerous antineoplastic agents, e.g., including antineoplastic topoisomerase II inhibitors, antimicrotubule agents, alkylating agents, antimetabolites in a composition and a method. These agents lack any common central core or significant element. Further, due to the structural dissimilarities of active compounds named merely by functional language, the search for all species presents an undue burden on the Office.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Because the above restriction/election requirement is complex, a telephone call to applicant's agent to request an oral election was not made. See M.P.E.P Sec. 812.01.
